

Alberta Literacy Council – Dollars $ Sense Financial Literacy Manual

Link	http://www.famlit.ca/resources/Dollars & Sense2012.pdf
Description	Not intended for learners, this manual gives guidance to tutors about how to teach various financial topics and provides worksheets that you can share with your learner. It consists of stand-alone modules broken down into topics. Topics have relevance to adults in daily life: math and money, understanding income, spending, saving, budgeting, banking, credit and debt.
Media used	PDF document
Readability	Fair. Text and number heavy
Activities included	Worksheets that tutors can use with learners
Multisensory	Visual – tables, grids, scans of real-life materials and documents
Language level	Tutors – Advanced, Learners – worksheets are levelled from Beginner to Advanced, depending which module you are working on
Prerequisites	Work with PDF, some basic language and math knowledge
Recommended Learning Mode	Videoconferencing with screen sharing, email/snail mail + phone
Device compatibility	Laptop, tablet, smartphone, computer
Log-in/subscription	Not required
Cost	Free
Diverse Content	Neutral
Canadian Content	Yes
Tutor Comment	The manual provides ideas for talking about financial literacy with your learner. Some activities may be too advanced, but many can be used to help structure a session.