Description	The UN World Food Program (WFP) have created lots of quizzes in a game called Freerice. As you answer questions correctly, ads appear on your screen. When you see one of these ads, you trigger a cash payment to WFP that is equivalent to the cost of 5 grains of rice and this is used to save and change lives. The Freerice grammar quiz is a multiple-choice quiz with two options to choose from. You can set the difficulty level for the quiz in a drop-down menu on the top left of the screen.
Media used	Website. There is also an App available from Google Play and the Apple Store
Readability	Good. Adverts appear on the side of the screen but are not distracting.
Activities included	Multiple-choice quiz. Choose the correct answer from 2 options.
Multisensory	Clicking or touching screen to select answers
Language level	Early-intermediate and above. Beginning readers may find the text too difficult.
Prerequisites	None
Recommended Learning Mode	Videoconferencing where learner shares screen, can be used independently on a smartphone, tablet, laptop or computer
Device compatibility	Laptop, tablet, smartphone, computer
Log-in/subscription	Not required (the site does let you know that they record the location of the user)
Cost	Free
Diverse Content	N/A
Canadian Content	No – Relevant for worldwide use
Tutor Comment	Easy to operate independently but as there is no mechanism in place to tell your learner why their answer is incorrect, it would be best done on a shared screen with tutor so discussion can take place.
